W. T. COMMENCEMENT STARTS ON SATURDAY

1.51 Inches of Rain Falls Here

RAIN IN SLOW GENTLE FALL FOR 4 DAYS

All Sections of Dust Bowl Is Covered By Rain

VEGETATION STARTS

First General Rain of the Year Covers Entire Southwest

Randall county received 1.51 inches of rain from Thursday night until Monday morning. Slow, steady showers prevailed here during this period, in contrast to the torrential down-pour in other sections of the Southwest.

The rain could not have come better for the full benefit to be derived by the thirsty soil in this section. Vegetation has greened up immediately following the rains.

A mist of dust settled down on the Panhandle Tuesday as the result of a rather stiff wind from the north, but since the entire dust bowl of Colorado and Kansas received rain the past week, it is believed that this will end the dust period since weeds and other vegetation will check the blowing soil.

The following was the rain received during the week:

Thursday	.35
Friday	.70
Saturday	.24
Sunday	.10
Monday	.12
Total	1.51

Gist and Hix Impressed With Washington Trip

"We didn't know our government was so big," stated R. B. Gist upon his return from Washington. Mr. Gist and J. P. Hix represented the wheat farmers of Randall county on the trip to Washington.

Practically 1,000 Texas farmers paid their own way to Washington for the purpose of expressing to President Roosevelt their thanks for the AAA program. It was the first time that a delegation representing any large group of citizens ever went to Washington just to thank the President for what he had done. Other groups have gone there to make demands of the government.

The badge of the delegates gave them entrance into the halls of congress, to government buildings, and a pass to the White House grounds to hear the President when he addressed the great gathering of farmers from 24 states.

A Texas banquet was held, attended by both senators and all representatives. Marvin Jones, congressman from this district and chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, came in for a great deal of praise from all the Texas delegation.

"We feel that the trip was worth while, and that it did a lot of good for the farmers of America," stated Mr. Gist.

Cow Pens in City Must Be Cleaned Up

To persons having cow pens, horse lots, or hog pens that have not been cleaned up this spring, this means you!

It is an undisputed fact that flies are the product of filth, therefore, persons having unsanitary premises are responsible for the flies that infest our town during the summer months.

The only way to have a sanitary cow lot is to pile up the droppings every morning and sprinkle lime on them. We crave your hearty co-operation.

CLEAN UP AND KEEP CLEAN. THE DEAD LINE IS JUNE THE FIRST.

TWO YEARS AT POLE

To Tell of Byrd Expedition to Little America

Joe Hill, Jr., is back home after two years' absence with the Byrd expedition to little America. Accompanied by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Joe returned Tuesday night from Boston.

A community welcome will be extended tonight at 8:15 o'clock when Joe will tell of his adventures at the College auditorium. His first of a series of lectures in Texas will be sponsored by the Canyon Athletic Club for the benefit of Buffalo Courts. Admission will be 40c and 25c.

During the two years in preparation and on the trip, Joe was intimately connected with Admiral Byrd. He was the Admiral's personal attendant on the way to Little America. He was one of the tractor men during the stay on the ice.

He has brought back many interesting things which will be displayed tonight in his first appearance.

The Byrd party was officially welcomed back to the United States in Washington by President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet. The expedition was formally disbanded Friday at Boston by the Admiral, after a rousing home reception by the Governor and prominent Boston citizens.

Joe was the youngest member of the Byrd party and as a result of his popularity with members of the crew had an opportunity to make unusual observations of both the men and the work which they performed on the trip.

Among the things which he was fortunate to share was one of the dogs which made the trip, and which arrived yesterday by express. He has other relics of the trip which will be shown during his lecture tour and which will eventually be placed in the Museum.

Compliance Papers For 1935 Are Being Signed

VOTE WILL CLOSE

Nine District Boxes To Be Opened For Those Not Voted

Every farmer who operates any wheat land, whether he has a wheat allotment contract or not, is urged to come to the county agent's office and cast a ballot on the question of whether they favor a continuation of the Wheat Allotment program.

All those who have contracts are urged to sign the 1935 compliance papers this week. They are being signed at the office in Canyon.

The referendum voting will be concluded Saturday, May 25th, at the regular meeting places within each wheat district. These meeting places are as follows:

District 1, Sunny Hill School.
District 2, Ralph School.
District 3, Jowell School.
District 4, Umbarger Community House.
District 5, County Agent's Office, Canyon.
District 6, Stone School.
District 7, Park School.
District 8, Trigg School.
District 9, Highland School.

The polls will be open from nine a. m. to eight p. m. and all who for any reason have not voted are urged to do so Saturday, May 25.

The 1935 compliance papers on Wheat Allotment contracts are being signed at this time in order to give more time to get the work finished before the time for the allotment committee to approve compliance and send certificates to Washington for the next payments. The allotment committee hopes by this procedure to avoid all delayed payments this year.

Park Board Bill Being Studied by Governor Allred

Governor Allred is holding the bill which would create a separate park board for the Palo Duro State Park until he has more time for investigation. He will probably not act on the measure before next week.

Mayor C. R. Burrow, T. C. Thompson, Travis Shaw, G. G. Foster, C. H. Jarrett and Clyde Warwick met a group of citizens in Amarillo Thursday where the matter of a separate board was discussed at length with officials of the National Park Service. It was the opinion that something must be done to insure better management for the Palo Duro during the summer, and to get the construction program under way. T. E. Johnson of Amarillo, C. R. Burrow and Clyde Warwick were named to interview Governor Allred in Austin Friday and to get his reaction as to the necessity of a separate board. The Governor was scheduled to leave Saturday night on the special train through the south to boost the Centennial, and therefore the urge to make the trip to Austin. Friday afternoon Governor Allred signified that he would sign the bill and appoint the separate board if that was the will of Panhandle citizens, yet he questioned the advisability of such action. When the special train was called off, the Governor asked for more time to study the bill and indicated that he wished to take up the question of the entire park situation before taking any action. This was agreeable to the Panhandle delegation in view of the fact that all this section desires is the prompt and effective management of the Palo Duro.

Governor Allred is going over the situation thoroughly this week, and yesterday had in conference D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas State Parks Board.

A meeting of local citizens was held at the court house Tuesday night at which all phases of the Palo Duro was discussed. Another meeting with Amarillo citizens will likely be held during the latter part of this week.

Common Schools Are Classified By County Board

The Randall County School Board met with County Judge Burney Slack, Saturday afternoon for the purpose of classifying all Common Schools of the county as 7th grade schools.

This classification was made in response to a request from the State Department of Education.

"This classification," said Frank R. Phillips, chairman of the Randall County Board of Trustees, "will affect some six or seven schools in Randall county." He urges the local trustees of these schools to work out plans for the transportation of their high school students for the coming school year and submit them to the county board at the earliest possible time.

"This does not mean that the scholastics of high school rating must be sent to the Canyon Schools, but the trustees may choose the high school they prefer," said Mr. Phillips.

DOWN AUSTIN WAY

After several months without a trip down state, the Newsman made a trip to Austin the past week, and picked up a little information which may or may not be of interest to our readers. A visit to the state capitol is always a most interesting one, especially when you are able to get a chance to visit with state officials.

In the first place, Senator Clint Small is not going to leave this district, and is not going to resign before the end of his term, December 31, 1936. Mrs. Small adds that he is not going to be a candidate for re-election next year, as the family is opposed to the Senator giving more of his time to public affairs.

No one in Austin denies the fact that Senator Small is the outstanding man of the entire legislature. He has had the responsibility of ironing out the kinks in legislation passed this year, just as he has in every session since he has been a member of the Senate. When the legislature gets in a jam, and the members are ready to throw up their hands, Senator Small has stepped into the breech and wrote substitute bills which have met the objection of the varied interests.

Two members of the House are jockeying for positions to succeed Senator Small. Representative H. K. Stanfield and Representative B. L. Rogers. With their entrance in the race for the senate, two vacancies will be caused in the House next session. Several names of Panhandle citizens are being linked with the race for the Senate. Down at Austin the folks are greatly interested as to whom will be elected from this district to both the Senate and to the House. Austin is the political center of the state, and gets a line up on the candidates even before the folks back home usually do.

Rain, rain, rain, lots of it all over every section of the state. Central Texas has been crying for dry weather, and it looks like they needed it very badly. The rivers are higher than they have been for a number of years. That section had a real drouth last year, but it looks like it had been definitely broken for 1935. Folks are feeling more optimistic than they have for several years.

Col. Ernest Thompson is the most talked of man to succeed Governor Allred. The Amarillo man is truly the head and brains of the Railroad Commission. If he continues to grow in the estimation of the people as he has done since his appointment on the Commission, the Colonel will go places politically. The only set back that might happen to him would be the creation of a separate oil and gas commission, which would not include Col. Thompson. The other two commissioners are broken down politicians who are not qualified to look after the aggressive business connected with oil and gas administration. The old red headed boy from the Panhandle is unafraid of hard jobs and hard labor. Yes, and he is getting fat at the business, taking on many pounds around the waist line.

Of course the center of all interest in Austin is Governor Allred—Jimmie to his friends. That old boy is a go getter, who is able to analyse state problems in a few minute's study, make valuable suggestions, and is not prompted in his action by political expediency. He flashes a smile to all callers, and grabs their hand in a shake from the shoulder that almost reminds you that you are his long lost brother, and that you are welcome to come right in, sit down and get the troubles off your chest. The Governor is wrestling with the problems of this big state as they present themselves fast and furious. His days of labor run from 15 to 20 hours, but as he put it, "I asked for it, so why kick."

Just now the big problem confronting the governor is what to do in 1936. Of course his advisers in Austin are 100% against him entering the fight against Senator Sheppard for the U. S. Senate. That would throw a big bunch of his friends out of jobs for which they have worked hard. Those who hold political jobs in Austin are always opposed to changes. Word drifts into Austin from all parts of the state advising the Governor to get into that Senate race if he expects to go places politically. To go to the Senate he would either have to lock horns with Tom Connally in 1940, or wait until 1942 to tackle the other senator. If he goes after Connally, he will have been two years out of office before election time, and will have lost some of his political hold on the people; some one might defeat Sheppard next year, in which case he would be four years out of office, and would have the disadvantage of tackling a senator at the end of his first term. The present list of opponents to Sheppard is entirely unsatisfactory. It looks like Allred will either have to make the race for the senate next year, or give up the idea of running for several years, provided that he really has the senate in mind. There are sure a lot of ifs in this political game.

At any rate the Governor is very much on his job in Austin, and is making it his serious job to do the best thing for Texas.

Claude Teer, chairman of the State Board of Control and Texas Relief Commission, asked about conditions in the Panhandle. While relief is being reduced as rapidly as possible, he says the Panhandle has been favored as much as the board could owing to the drouth. He was told that Randall county had not been receiving a sufficient amount to keep those on relief at work. He believes that the rest of the state are reducing the relief load, this section will be able to receive a little more money.

Texas is becoming state park minded. Up until CCC came into existence and the National Parks Service started operations on a large scale, the Texas Parks Board was D. E. Colp. Now that the federal government is spending several million dollars on the parks of Texas, the people are beginning to realize the importance of parks. The legislature has not been park conscious in the past. A new set up for parks, based upon the New York plan of regional, plus state wide control, is greatly needed in Texas. Governor Allred, Senator Small and the State Planning Board will likely have a plan to present to the legislature in the special session this fall.

The new campus of the University of Texas is an inspiring sight to those who were accustomed to view with disgust the shacks of six years ago. The new buildings are still under construction.

Coke Stevenson, popular Speaker of the House, is slated to run for re-election to the House. He is talked of as a possible candidate for Governor, but friends advise he will not make the race. Stevenson broke all records by being elected for a second time as Speaker. Lee Satterwhite was the first man who broke the precedent by returning to the House after serving a term as Speaker. Stevenson has it in mind, no doubt, setting up some precedents which may never be equalled in Texas.

More people are riding the trains than ever before. Maybe the rains have had something to do with this, but stand around depots, and looking at the crowds in the cars is almost convincing that train traffic has definitely increased. Better service at lower cost has increased traffic. Food prices have jumped both on trains and in the city hotels. Looking over the menu one is reminded of the good old prosperity days, except for the flatness of the purse from which the price must come.

Judge A. B. Martin was again urged, but refused, to accept a place on the Supreme Court Commission after Judge Critz was elevated from the commission to the court. This is the second time the offer has been made to Judge Martin, and is a distinct honor to the Panhandle justice.

The Texas Centennial appropriation is not so popular over the state as one might think. It had a real battle in the legislature. The Governor was almost convinced to veto the bill since no method of raising the $3,000,000 was provided.

Such folks as there are in this world! Almost 25,000 people petitioned Governor Allred and hundreds smothered him with telegrams and letters appealing for the outlaw Hamilton. Never has such a barage been laid down upon a Governor seeking clemency for such a notorious outlaw, killer, robber, and arch criminal. Probably two-thirds of those participating are the sort of persons who thoroughly cuss the officers for not doing their duty when a crime is committed. Such folks; such disgusting folks.

The interest of the Panhandle is well taken care of in the Governor's office. Old Hick Holcomb, formerly of Dumas and Dimmitt, holds a position of responsibility in the Secretary of State's office. Then Lawrence Hagy of Amarillo, Colonel to you, sir, is one of his close advisers. A real welcome is extended Panhandle folks when they get to the office. The Governor knows Panhandle folks and feels grateful for the whole hearted support of his program that has been given by Panhandle people.

County officials are scratching their heads about the 12 page opinion issued by the Attorney General regarding marble boards. His decision is as clear as mud. In some places the local officials are outlawing the boards, while in most other places they are looked upon with both suspicion and distrust, but are allowed to go on because the officers are not sure what to do. The Attorney General has been urgently requested to clarify his long opinion.

R. B. Creager, Republican State chairman, is an interesting character and discusses affairs, when off the record, in a common sense manner. "You fellows and my crowd are going to find ourselves in the same camp one of these days fighting the radical element," was his statement. He deplored the increasing radicalism in this nation, and predicted that the present major parties would be fighting shoulder to shoulder against this wave which was so detrimental to the nation.

Seven constitutional amendments to be voted upon August 24 are printed in this issue of the News. It cost the state of Texas $53,000 to have these amendments printed in one newspaper in each of the 254 counties of Texas. The cost of the special election will more than double this expense. Every tax payer should study these amendments and make up his mind as to the merits of the amendments, and then vote. Too many folks are afraid of amendments, and will vote against them without investigation. Read these amendments, and study them.

Folks down state seem to think they suffered about as much from the dust storms this spring as did Panhandle people. To hear them talk they are generally of the opinion that all West Texas is ruined, and that few people still remain out here. They cannot comprehend that most of the real dust came from Colorado and states to the north of the Panhandle; and they do not understand the determination of Panhandle people.

It is astonishing to one who has not visited Austin in more than a year to note the added services the government is performing. Senator John Redditt and Representative Homer Leonard, chairman of the Finance and Appropriation committees, issued a warning to the people that expenses of government cannot be reduced so long as people insist upon piling more duties upon the state. The people cry out against governmental interference with their every day life, but at the same time demand more and more services from the government.

Welcomed First Visitors To View Pioneer Hall

T. D. Hobart, who was for seven years president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and who directed its affairs during the years when funds were being secured to erect the beautiful museum of the Society, died in Pampa, Sunday.

When on April 14, 1933 the doors of the Museum were first opened, it was T. D. Hobart who welcomed the first thousands of visitors who came to view Pioneer Hall, the Mary E. Hudspeth Art Gallery, and the Library, every foot of which was dear to the man whose untiring co-operation and energy has made its building possible.

T. D. Hobart's connection with Canyon and the West Texas State Teachers College reached beyond the Historical Society. He was always ready to assist Dr. J. A. Hill and his faculty in anything which had to do with the welfare of the college. He was a loved and familiar figure to hundreds of students, who knew him as a frequent visitor on the campus.

At the time of his death he was an honorary life member of the Board of Directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, being the first person ever chosen for this position. It was the opinion of the officers of the Society that Mr. Hobart could not be spared from a part in the direction of the affairs of the organization, though he insisted upon retiring two years ago from the presidency.

Thirty Million Miles of Ford Economy

MORE MILES. Faster miles. Greater economy . . . that is the story of the Ford V-8. There are conclusive figures from owners to show that it is the most economical Ford car ever built.

A particularly interesting and complete report of costs comes from a national fleet owner who has owned 854 Ford cars which have run more than thirty million miles in business use.

175 were Model T Fords which were run 5,017,075 miles. 599 were Model A Ford cars which were run 24,041,632 miles. 80 are Ford V-8 cars which have been run 2,982,886 miles.

This owner's cost records show that Ford V-8 cars cost 12% less to operate than the Model A Fords and 31% less than the Model T Fords. And they covered more miles per month! The monthly average for the Model T Fords was 1509 miles. . . . For the Model A Fords, 1866 miles. . . . And 2571 miles for the Ford V-8.

Each year the Ford car gives you more in value and performance and costs you less to operate.

Actual Figures Show The Ford V-8 is 12% More economical than the Model A. and 31% More economical than the famous Model T.

Her Feathered Friend

To prevent motor damage when you

...you must have oil of high film strength!

*MOTORISTS WHO KNOW THESE FACTS WILL SAVE MONEY!

Motor oils refined by the usual methods have some oiliness and film strength, but they may form carbon and sludge, which lead to expensive motor repairs.

Other oils may form almost no carbon and sludge, but are so over-refined that they are robbed of oiliness and film strength they need to prevent motor wear.

Germ Processed Oil is refined to eliminate carbon and sludge troubles and then the Germ Process adds extra oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than any straight mineral oil, as tests on Almen and Timken machines have proved.

DID YOU know that idling along at 10 miles an hour or picking up suddenly can cause as much motor wear as high-speed driving?

All three put extreme pressure on your connecting rod and crankshaft bearings. If your oil does not have enough oiliness and film strength to withstand these high pressures, your motor parts suffer damaging wear. That's why you need oil with the greatest possible oiliness and film strength.

Straight mineral oils have no more oiliness and film strength than they had 10 years ago. Some, because of over-refining, have less!*

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has more oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than straight mineral oils! The Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base oil—puts into this oil more film strength and oiliness than any oil possesses naturally, no matter what crude oil it is made from!

That extra film strength and oiliness enable Germ Processed Oil to stay on the job and prevent wear under the most extreme pressure and heat. It helps Germ Processed Oil give long mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Germ Processed Oil protects your motor another way. Because it penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, it forms a "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and cuts down wear during the starting period.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the oil you need in this day of slow city driving, speed on the highway and sudden acceleration everywhere. It protects your motor and saves you money!

With 'Robot' Pilot, New Landing Methods, U. S. Aims for Air Supremacy

IN the campaign for world air supremacy and the necessary greater safety in flying, American pilots are relying more and more upon mechanical aid.

A bent radio beam which provides a path which a plane may follow to the very center of the airport is one idea being tried out which bears promise for the future.

The radio compass is another device being tested which may help end for all time such tragedies as the recent Missouri plane crash which sent a New Mexico senator and four others to their deaths.

Two small radio transmitting stations are installed at known distances from the airport. By means of signals from these stations, and his compass, the befogged airman "feels" his way to a perfect landing in the airport.

Another safety device is the gyro-pilot. Equipped with this "robot" mechanism, the DC-I Douglas "mystery plane" recently set a new transcontinental record. Encouraged by this success, its sponsors immediately began planning assault on foreign air records, as part of the drive for American leadership in the sky, in which other air lines are also taking part.

• • •

IN a plane equipped with this automatic pilot, the aviator can set his dials before taking off. Safely in the air, he connects the robot, assured that it will continue the ship's climb to the altitude set on its dials, level off, set a course as dialed, and maintain level flight on that course.

With a perfected method for "blind" landing, this invention, a product of the genius of the late Elmer Ambrose Sperry, is expected to eliminate from flying the human element responsible for most mishaps.

In stabilizing a ship, the "robot" pilot reacts far more speedily than the most experienced airman. To it, the dreaded fog means nothing. And during wartime it should prove most invaluable, the human pilot being enabled to devote his entire attention to his maps, guns, or bombs.

• • •

ANY small boy knows how strongly a whirling gyroscope top resists any attempt to upset its equilibrium. The automatic pilot consists of two of these gyroscopes, one operating on a vertical, the other on a horizontal axis.

The slightest swerve of a plane off its prescribed course causes one or the other of the gyroscopes to react, turning an attached shutter. This sets in motion hydraulic controls applied to ailerons, rudder, or tail fin, whichever is needed to correct the plane's course.

This little "robot" pilot, a tiny, 100-pound box of gears, is expected to prove a mighty factor in wiping out any remaining risk involved in flying, a necessary accomplishment if America is to reign in the air.

A little city boy who had been to the country was describing to another boy friend the big pig he had seen. "It was in a pen," he said, "and it was afraid of the little pigs. They would chase the big pig around the pen and after he fell down with exhaustion, the little pigs pounced upon the big pig and ate the buttons off his vest."

"I have no faith in that proverb that all things come to him who waits," says John D. Rockefeller, Jr. "My experience proves that the only things which come to the man who waits are cast-off things of somebody else. And these are seldom worth gathering."

The schoolmaster wrote on the back of a boy's monthly report: "A good worker, but talks too much." The father signed the report and then wrote under the remark of the schoolmaster: "You should meet his mother."

Approximately 500 H.D. Club Women Meet Here Thurs.

Horton From A. & M. Is Chief Speaker At Sessions

"Home demonstration work is in the pioneer stage and farm women are blazing the trail," said Miss Mildred Horton, Home Demonstration Agent of College Station in her address on "Women as Pioneers" before approximately five hundred women who met here Thursday for the annual Home Demonstration Short Course.

Miss Horton told in her address of the contributions of Mrs. Dickinson at the Alamo, of Mary Austin Holley during Texas colonization period, and compared the work done by home demonstration women today with the contributions of the aforementioned pioneer women. Although home demonstration work in Texas is only twenty years old, there are 50,000 women in Texas home demonstration clubs today, according to Miss Horton. With the coming celebration of the Texas Centennial, Miss Horton admonished the women at the meeting to communicate with the remaining pioneer women in their communities and to "write down what they say, give them the opportunity to enjoy the telling of those experiences. Nothing will make them happier. They will have contributed to the Centennial."

Miss Hamner Speaks

At the forenoon session Miss Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo gave the principal address, centering her remarks around the women who were early settlers of the Panhandle-Plains area. She cited as typical pioneer women Mrs. Charles Goodnight, Mrs. Cape Willingham, Mrs. T. S. Bugbee, Mrs. Carter of Dimmitt, Mrs. W. W. Wetzel of Amarillo, Mrs. Jim Pottinger and Mrs. Luttrell of Claude. In closing, Miss Hamner said, "The Texas Panhandle is a hard country on women's beauty. The old women of this region do not have lovely skin and dainty hands; they have faces which are lined and brown, but in which are shown strength of character, courage in the midst of hardship, and the traces of much laughter. These women were working for their husbands and children; they suffered, but they were so busy that they had no time to realize it."

Tribute To Mrs. Warner

In the afternoon Mrs. T. V. Reeves paid an especially beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. Phebe K. Warner who was buried Thursday. Mrs. Warner is well remembered by the women of this region as a leading representative of the farm and pioneer women and as a prominent club woman.

Entertainment Varied

Special entertaining was the community singing led by Mrs. J. R. Hogge of Potter County, cowboy songs by Ed Todd, Ted Clark, and George Gandy of the T-Anchor Ranch, and a chalk talk on cattle brands by Miss Betty Hicks and Wendel Cain.

After the luncheon, which was served by the Buffalo men in the college cafeteria, an inspection tour was made in the museum and in Buffalo Courts.

In the afternoon pioneer dances which were directed by Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe were presented.

Misses Ruby Mashburn and Lida Cooper presided over the two meetings which had as their central theme "Pioneers of West Texas" and which were planned by Miss Marion Normington, Elizabeth Cox, and Orpa Dennis of the Home Economics Department.

Home Folks to Manage Tri-State Races

Pictured above are the men who will manage the spring meeting of the Tri-State Fair horse races which will be held in Amarillo May 25 through June 1.

The race meet this year, which promises to be one of the greatest thoroughbred programs ever staged in the Panhandle, will be managed by this quartet of "home folks" to assure racing fans a square deal in every way.

Last year the Texas Racing Commission praised the Tri-State Fair racing meet as being one of the best managed in the state.

Rx FOR TEXAS 100% Custom Tailored Gasoline

"IN the spring," says Mark Twain, "I have counted 136 different kinds of weather inside of 24 hours."

That gives you a hint, though it is humorously exaggerated, of the reason why so many cars run erratically in May. Drivers know that motor performance depends directly on the weather, UNLESS the gasoline is adjusted in advance to anticipate climatic changes.

Of all such motor fuels, Phillips 66 is the outstanding leader. Phillips blazed the trail nine years ago. Originated CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, the revolutionary process which broke the vicious connection between changes in weather and changes in motor performance.

This scientific control of volatility has one purpose only:—To make Phillips 66 deliver unchanging, money-saving performance at any and every temperature from way below zero to over 100 in the shade. Spring . . . summer . . . winter . . . they're all the same to your motor if the tank is filled with this greater gasoline.

Find out how you can get more power and more miles, snappier pick-up and smoother running; all without paying a penny extra per gallon. And find it out easily by stopping for a trial tankful of high test Phillips 66 at any Orange and Black 66 shield.

Spring Cagers Compete For First Places

At the close of the first week of spring basketball at W. T. under Coaches Al Baggett and Bob Cox, it was already evident that there would be some competition for positions before the starting quintet opened the season next year.

Five lettermen were among the reporting candidates. Captain-elect Willie Boedeker of Lockney, Audell Kimmins of Canyon, Jack Davis of Memphis, Lawrence Clark of Turkey, and Curtis Clement of Wellington are the lettermen and every one of them played regular on the Buffs at some time last season.

This year the freshman team won nineteen out of twenty-two games from some very stiff competition and are contributing some players that are sure to be of real value to the Buffs of 1936.

Marvin Myers of Munday, Ray Vineyard of Claude, and Vernon Johnson of Childress are squadmen from last year's squad who are showing improvement.

Conway Butler and Jewel Meacham of Turkey are two new men who are showing real basketball ability. From the "fighting freshmen of '35" come Ray Cox of Vernon, Ed Miller of Vernon, Craig Walling of Farwell, Don Savage of Canyon, B. F. Taylor of Kirkland, Oscar Hinger of Endee, New Mexico, Grover Dennis of Olton, James Davis of Baileyboro, and James Badgett of Floydada.

The spring practice will run one more week and will close Friday night with a game between the players eligible for next year and the graduating members of this year's team.

Captain Edd McMinn of Kirkland, John Walker of Spearman, Leonard Brist of Canyon, and M. E. Clearinger of Canyon are the seniors from the '35 team. They will round out their quintet with one ex-letterman. There is a possibility that the other member of the seniors team will be Joe "College" Fortenberry, former W. T. star who was named on the All-American team at the National Tournament in Denver this year.

The game will commence at 8:15 Friday night in Burton Gymnasium. There will be a charge of 10c and 25c general admission and all money collected will be used for the construction of Buffalo Courts.

Public Schools Are Closed Monday With Pipkin's Address

Commencement activities and high school days ended for 47 Canyon High School seniors Monday night when they were awarded their diplomas and heard an address by Hon. Hermon C. Pipkin, president of the Texas Bar Association.

The Commencement Sermon was delivered by Rev. H. M. Harriman, Sunday night at the Methodist Church. The service opened with the Processional March played by Mrs. Lee Foster, and Rev. Chas. L. Dickey gave the invocation. The high school Girls' Chorus sang "My Creed."

Rev. Harriman opened his talk with a scripture reading, and urged the graduating class to remember that although they were leaving high school, the advice of their parents would still be necessary for their welfare. Special praise was given parents of the class members throughout the sermon.

Benediction was given by Rev. Dickey, followed by the recessional of the class.

Commencement Monday night opened with the Processional March played by the orchestra; Rev. Stuart Marsh gave the invocation, and a group of senior girls sang "My task."

Hermon C. Pipkin in his address, compared the modern high school graduate with the early pioneers. The pioneers entered new territory facing nothing but discouraging prospects, but through hard work, perserverence, and faith in themselves, the pioneers were able to succeed. The modern high school graduate is told on every hand that he has no chance to succeed in any career he may choose to follow. All vocations are over-crowded, and business conditions are poor. Mr. Pipkin directed attention to the achievements of the pioneers, and said that the high school graduate of today faced problems similar to those of the pioneers.

Mr. Pipkin said that no person, despite financial or other success, could be entirely happy without a satisfactory spiritual life.

The honor students, Mary May Harrison, valedictorian; Jack Oldham, salutatorian; Mable Schmitz, winner of the Balfour Award; and Curtis Ellison, best all-around athlete, were introduced by Supt. Irby B. Carruth.

In introducing W. H. Stroud, president of the School Board, Supt. Carruth expressed appreciation for the services of the School Board. Diplomas were awarded members of the class by Mr. Stroud.

The services closed with the singing of the Pledge Song and Recession of the Senior Class.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

On May 30, for the 23rd Time Since 1909, America's Daredevil Speed Demons Will Risk Their Neck for Fame and Cash

At the Indianapolis oval on Memorial Day, Wild Bill Cummings, left, victor in the 1934 classic, and Lou Myers, right, who copped in 1928 and 1933, will seek to renew their fame and replenish their purses again this year.

BY PHILIP MARTIN

ON May 30, for the 23rd time since the opening of the giant Indianapolis 2½-mile track in 1909, America's ace speed demons will gamble their lives and professional reputations trying to collect the $50,000 purse that goes to the victor of this thrilling event.

The usual custom of installing the previous year's winner as favorite again holds true, and Wild Bill Cummings, the Indianapolis boy who last year made good in a big way for the old home town, will be watched closely by eager spectators as the starter's flag goes down.

If you are an auto racing bug, you will recall the new record of 104:865 miles an hour set by Cummings in 1934, despite the new gasoline limitation which compelled the pilots to squeeze the last mile out of the precious fluid.

However, he was given a strong argument down the stretch by Mauri Rose, and finished but 27 seconds ahead of the Dayton gent. Rose again is enrolled in the grueling 500-mile trek and so, weather permitting, you are likely to witness a hair-raising duel between these two participants.

• • •

LOU MYERS is another entry likely to draw the gaze of the throng. One of the only two "repeat" winners in Indianapolis history—Tommy Milton was the other—Myers' proclivity for driving without relief has brought him the reputation of an iron man. Lou evidently believes in the old saying that if you want anything done right, do it yourself.

He copped the classic in 1928 and 1933; finished second in 1929, and fourth in 1934. He also piloted the last 375 miles for Myron Stevens in 1931 and rode the bricks into fourth place.

While the race is regarded as highly hazardous, figures show that only 12 persons have been killed in actual competition since 1909.

Rotarians Hear of Fossils and Japanese Tuesday Noon

Prof. C. S. Johnston of W. T. told the Rotary Club about the fossil beds in the Palo Duro Canyon, and Governor-elect Jim Willson talked briefly on the Japanese situation.

Harris M. Cook was in charge of the program, and introduced Prof. Johnston, the newest member of the W. T. faculty.

"There's bones in them thar hills," stated Mr. Johnston as he told of the excavation he was conducting in the Palo Duro. He described his work here with Floyd Studor, as well as the work he is directing in Donley county and Hemphill county. The fossils must be carefully removed, and prepared as they are taken out, then much time spent in the laboratory classifying them before they are ready to exhibit.

There are two phases stressed in this work, educational and scientific. In addition to the many bones of mastodons, elephants and other animals which have been removed, a complete skeleton of a new specie of land turtle has been removed, aged something like 5 million years.

Mr. Johnston highly praised the possibilities of the museum at W. T. and predicted that it may be one of the largest and most scientific in the nation as a result of the discoveries being made in this section.

Jim Willson of Floydada was a visitor, and made a short talk on his recent trip to the Orient. "The Japanese are a menace to peace in the east," was his conclusion. The present war maneuvers in the Pacific are necessary to show the Japs that the United States is prepared for war. The United States has made a bad impression on the Japanese, which they cannot forget. The exclusion act hurt the Japanese national pride. They have maps of all western states, and know the preparations being made by this nation. They will take control of the Philippines as soon as we move out.

Visitors present were: Jack Edwards, C. T. Crowe, N. S. Griggs, I. H. Davies, all of Amarillo; C. S. Johnston, C. R. Burrow, L. J. Bryan, Mrs. Irby Carruth, all of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Willson of Floydada.

Canine 'Cop' in Action

For police dogs, to help them apprehend criminals, Berkeley, Calif., officers employ Doberman Pinschers. Here one of these canines of the law is shown putting all he has into a leap for the pistol arm, while the "criminal," wearing a heavily padded coat and a nervous smile, wards off the dog's advances.

Farmers Mass at Capital to Back AAA

Gathered in Washington to demand that the AAA go on, 4000 farmers from south and midwest are shown above on the White House lawn as they listened to President Roosevelt flay "many of the high and mighty" for their "lying about the farm program." At left, in Constitution Hall, a group of farmers demonstrate enthusiastically for the New Deal.
